SOSAI MAS OYAMA

極真流

The Founder of # KYOKUSHINKAI
SOSAI MASUTATSU OYAMA

Born in 1923 in Gimje, Japanese-occupied Korea, Masutatsu Oyama (real name: Choi Young-Eui) would later become one of the most influential martial artists in history. From a young age, he showed a passion for martial arts. As a boy, he was sent to Manchuria, China, where he studied traditional Chinese martial arts. At 15, he moved to Japan, originally to become a military pilot, but his path soon shifted toward the study of martial arts.

In Japan, Oyama enrolled at Takushoku University and began training under Gichin Funakoshi, founder of Shotokan Karate. He quickly rose through the ranks, achieving high dan rankings not only in karate but also in judo. Despite his achievements, Oyama grew dissatisfied with the practice of non-contact karate common at the time. Craving a deeper, more authentic experience, he sought total physical and spiritual mastery through extreme training.

Following the advice of his mentor, So Nei Chu, Oyama isolated himself in the mountains (notably Mount Minobu) for over a year and a half. There, he subjected himself to brutal daily routines: punching trees and rocks, lifting heavy stones, practicing katas under waterfalls, and meditating to sharpen his mind and body. Emerging from isolation, Oyama demonstrated superhuman strength by fighting live bulls — breaking horns with barehanded strikes and even killing some — feats that cemented his legendary status.

Throughout the late 1940s and 1950s, Oyama entered martial arts competitions and gained a fearsome reputation for his power and spirit. Frustrated by the restrictions in tournament rules, he envisioned creating a new form of karate based on real-world fighting, tough conditioning, and deep internal discipline.

In 1953, Oyama opened his first dojo in Tokyo. After years of refinement, he formally established the Kyokushinkaikan ("Society of the Ultimate Truth") in 1964. His style, Kyokushin Karate, became known for its full-contact sparring, rigorous physical demands, and intense spirit training. One of Oyama's most famous achievements was completing the 100-man kumite, sparring 100 opponents one after another in a single day — a test of endurance and willpower that few in history have replicated.

Through the 1970s and 1980s, Kyokushin spread globally, influencing not only karate but also kickboxing and the early stages of mixed martial arts (MMA). Oyama's vision emphasized the importance of perseverance ("Osu no Seishin") and seeking one's own personal ultimate truth through hardship and discipline.

Sosai Masutatsu Oyama passed away on April 26, 1994, from lung cancer at the age of 70. His death marked the end of an era, but his legacy lives on in the millions of martial artists around the world who practice Kyokushin or styles it inspired.

"One becomes a beginner after one thousand days of training and an expert after ten thousand days of practice."

DID YOU KNOW?

Fighting Bulls: One of Oyama's most famous demonstrations involved fighting bulls. He was known to kill a bull with a single blow to the head, showcasing his immense power and the effectiveness of his techniques.

What is KyokushinRyu?

KYOKU

The ‘u’ sound following ‘kyok’ is typically silent. This character means ‘ultimate’ or ‘extreme,’ conveying the idea of reaching the utmost limit and pushing oneself beyond boundaries in the quest for perfection. Within the context of KyokushinRyu, KYOKU embodies the pursuit of martial arts excellence, reflecting the relentless dedication and perseverance required to achieve mastery. This principle encourages practitioners to challenge their limits and continuously strive for improvement in their skills and personal growth.

SHIN

This character represents ‘truth’ or ‘reality,’ embodying sincerity, honesty, and authenticity. It underscores the importance of integrity in training and interactions. In KyokushinRyu, SHIN emphasizes a commitment to practicality and effectiveness, advocating for realistic training methods that prepare students for genuine combat situations. By embracing this concept, practitioners develop applicable skills, prioritizing substance over superficial techniques and striving for mastery through honest effort and realistic preparation.

RYU

The concept of ‘flow’ represents smooth and continuous movement, highlighting adaptability and fluidity, particularly in martial arts. It signifies the seamless integration of techniques, enabling practitioners to respond instinctively to their opponents while remaining attuned to their own actions and the surrounding environment. This understanding embodies the essence of martial arts as a dynamic, evolving tradition grounded in structured principles that guide practitioners on their journey.

Together, the kanji characters 極真流 (KyokushinRyu) embody the rich philosophy and essence of the Kyokushin style of karate. They signify the relentless quest for the ultimate truth in martial arts, reflecting a deep commitment to personal growth and self-discovery. This pursuit of perfection is central to the training, encouraging practitioners to challenge their limits and strive for excellence in every aspect of their practice. Additionally, the characters emphasize a strong focus on practicality, underscoring the importance of effective techniques that apply to real-world situations. Finally, they honor the unique lineage and tradition of the style, connecting practitioners to the history and teachings passed down through generations. This combination of ideals fosters a holistic approach to martial arts, blending physical skill with philosophical depth.

SPIRIT OF OSU
押忍の精神

THE ESSENCE OF 'OSU NO SEISHIN'
THE SPIRIT OF ENDURANCE AND RESPECT IN # KYOKUSHIN

In the disciplined world of Kyokushin Martial Art, few expressions carry as much weight and meaning as "Osu no Seishin" (押忍の精神). This phrase, deeply embedded in the culture and philosophy of martial arts, symbolizes perseverance, humility, mental resilience, and the unwavering will to endure.

Etymologically, "Osu" is derived from two Japanese kanji: 押し (oshi), meaning "to push," and 忍ぶ (shinobu), meaning "to endure" or "to persevere." When combined, they reflect the essence of driving forward through challenges and embracing hardship with dignity. The word "Seishin" (精神), meaning "spirit" or "mind," completes the phrase to denote "the spirit of perseverance."

This concept transcends the dojo; it is a guiding principle for how practitioners carry themselves in training, in competition, and in life. The application of "Osu no Seishin" can be observed in many everyday interactions within the martial arts community.

APPLICATIONS OF 'OSU' IN DOJO CULTURE

1. As a Greeting: "Osu" is used as a respectful greeting when entering or leaving the dojo. For example, a student bows and says, "Osu" upon meeting their instructor.

2. As a Response: It is used to acknowledge commands and instructions. For instance, when told to do 20 push-ups, a student replies, "Osu!" to show understanding.

3. As an Affirmation: "Osu" expresses readiness and willingness to act. When asked, "Are you ready to begin kumite?" a student responds, "Osu!" to confirm.

4. As Encouragement: It serves as motivation during intense training. Phrases like "Keep going! Osu!" or "Push harder—Osu no Seishin!" are often used to uplift others.

In essence, "Osu" is far more than a word; it is a declaration of character and inner strength. It is a vocal embodiment of the Kyokushin spirit—respectful, resolute, and unyielding. By understanding and embracing "Osu no Seishin," practitioners not only strengthen their martial arts journey but also cultivate a mindset capable of facing life's many challenges with composure and courage.

ANTIPOLO SPORTS HUB

Antipolo City, the capital of Rizal Province, is a fast-growing city known for its rich cultural roots, religious heritage, and scenic mountain views. Named after the tipolo tree, the area was once home to indigenous communities before being organized by Spanish missionaries in the late 1500s. It gained national prominence in 1626 with the arrival of the image of Our Lady of Peace and Good Voyage, which turned the city into a major pilgrimage site. Declared a city in 1998 and provincial capital in 2020, Antipolo continues to grow as both a spiritual and urban center.

Reflecting this growth is the Antipolo Sports Hub, a modern facility that showcases the city's commitment to youth development, health and community engagement. As a venue for local and national sporting events, such as the 2025 President's Cup, the Sports Hub complements Antipolo's transformation—blending tradition with progress, and culture with active living. It stands as a symbol of the city's dynamic spirit and dedication to building a stronger, more connected community.

I am deeply honored to be part of the 1st Southeast Asia & 20th National KyokushinRyu Full-Contact Karate Tournament. This remarkable event not only celebrates years of KyokushinRyu in the national arena but also marks a new chapter in uniting the best fighters from across Southeast Asia. It is a privilege to witness the dedication, hard work, and passion that each fighter brings to the mat. To all the fighters—congratulations! Today, you have the opportunity to embody the true spirit of Kyokushin. Every punch, every kick, and every moment of your fight reflects the dedication you have put into your training. Remember, Kyokushin is not just about defeating an opponent but about conquering your own limits. Fight with honor and stay resilient. To the organizers, thank you for your hard work, dedication, and commitment in making this event possible. Let us continue to uphold the values of perseverance, respect, and integrity that Kyokushin stands for as we strive for even greater success together. Osu!

As the Regional Director of the International Karate Alliance KyokushinRyu Philippines Bicol, it is with great pride and excitement that I express my full support and participation in the upcoming 20th National Karate Tournament of our esteemed organization. This much awaited event will take place on May 24 to 26, 2025, in Antipolo City, Metro Manila. This tournament marks twenty years of unwavering commitment to the values of discipline, respect, and perseverance. For me, these are the principles that define the spirit of Kyokushin Karate. It will serve as a platform for our dedicated athletes to showcase their strength, skill, and character while also learning from fellow martial artists from across the country. It is a celebration of excellence, unity, and shared passion for the martial arts. To all our Bicol delegates, and to all the participants I encourage you to give your best and uphold the true spirit of KyokushinRyu. Carry with you the pride of your region and the values we live by on and off the mat. Let us continue to grow stronger together. Osu!

ウィルフレド・サラサル

As we approach the 20th National Kyokushin Full-Contact Karate Tournament and the 1st Southeast Asia Championship, we celebrate not just competition but the discipline, determination, and passion that make this event a cornerstone of our martial arts community. For decades, we've witnessed incredible growth, showcasing the best of martial arts through intense performances and unforgettable moments. We honor the legacy of the late great founder, Sosai Masutatsu Oyama, whose vision transcended borders. Thanks to Kancho Jackie Chong's efforts and Kancho Steven Foo's leadership, our community continues to thrive globally. Our deepest gratitude to SEA Director Shihan Artemio Mancol and Philippine Country Director Shihan Usman Baraguir for their tireless commitment, and to the entire team for making this historic event possible. Best of luck to all competitors—may your efforts reflect your hard work and dedication. See you on the mats!

DARIO CONDOY

My respect and commendation to the IKAK Top Management and Support Staff for organizing the 1st Southeast Asia and 20th National KyokushinRyu Full-Contact Karate Tournament. Osu! Indeed, this is a great avenue for fighters to showcase their honed physical skills and developed mental strength—a testament to their passion, commitment, perseverance, and discipline. Moreover, this tournament broadens their horizons and provides an opportunity to elevate their craft as they learn from each other, develop sportsmanship, and build camaraderie. Congratulations to all competitors! Simply joining this competition is already an accomplishment. Kudos to all branch chiefs and instructors for their successful participation in this event. Furthermore, our heartfelt gratitude to the parents for their unwavering love and support.
God bless us all. Osu!

JOFFREN BUERANO

To the competitors, coaches, and families of the 20th Kyokushin National and Southeast Asian KyokushinRyu Full Contact Karate Tournament, as a Philippine branch chief of the International Karate Alliance KyokushinRyu, it is a privilege to welcome you all to this remarkable event. For two decades, this tournament has been a stage for testing skills, building friendships, and honoring the spirit of Kyokushin karate across Southeast Asia. I encourage each of you to approach the competition with the true spirit of Kyokushin—relentlessly pursuing self-improvement, mastering techniques, and showing respect to your fellow karateka. Let your efforts reflect the principles of rei, kime, and maai, demonstrating both strength and character. This tournament is more than just a test of skill; it is a celebration of your dedication, perseverance, and commitment to the art of Kyokushin. May this experience inspire growth, strengthen bonds, and further the reach of Kyokushin karate in our region and beyond. May the best competitors rise to the top, but may everyone leave with a sense of pride, achievement, and the unbreakable spirit of Kyokushin. Osu!

MARIA CAGULADA

Congratulations once again, KyokushinRyu Philippines, on this tournament!

To all the fighters—every strike, every fall, every struggle shapes you. Endure, rise, and keep growing. The path of a warrior is never easy, but with each challenge, you become stronger and wiser. Stay humble in victory, graceful in defeat, and always hungry to improve. True strength lies not only in power but in the discipline and respect you show on and off the mat. Keep pushing forward, and let your spirit shine through every battle. Osu!

EAGLE LIUP

Welcome to the 1st Southeast Asia & 20th National KyokushinRyu Full-Contact Karate Tournament. Today, as you participate in this competition, you will serve as an inspiration to many because of the hard work, conditioning, and the challenges you have faced in your training to prepare for the difficult final test. This fight is a reflection of your discipline, limitations, dedication, and sacrifices. This is your opportunity to showcase your excellence and skill. May you continue to train and inspire others as a member of KyokushinRyu Philippines. Good luck! Osu!
In this tournament, we aim to represent with honor and unity, and to inspire the youth. This will be an unforgettable experience for the players. I would also like to express my heartfelt gratitude to Kancho, Shihan, Sensei, Senpai, the Branch Chief, all instructors, and everyone involved for their dedication and hard work in making this event a success.
Thank you very much to all!

I'm honored as a mentor of IKAK Pampanga to be part of this karate tournament. Our Organization represents not just physical prowess, but also a dedication to the principles of discipline, respect, and continuous improvement. This tournament is more than just a competition; it's a celebration, a gathering of skilled individuals united by a shared passion. It's a platform to demonstrate the culmination of countless hours of training, the embodiment of our collective spirit, and the pursuit of excellence. My hope is that this event will serve as a powerful testament to the high standards and unwavering dedication that define our community. Beyond the display of technique and strength, I believe this tournament offers a unique opportunity for cultural exchange and mutual learning. Let us all work together to make this tournament a resounding success, a memorable experience that strengthens the bonds within our martial arts community and inspires us to continue our journey of self-improvement. Osu!

First of all, I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to all the organizers of this monumental event — the 20th National KyokushinRyu Full-Contact Karate Tournament and the 1st Southeast Asia Kyokushin Full-Contact Karate Championship. Your hard work, commitment, and dedication have brought together athletes, instructors and fans from various regions to celebrate the spirit of Kyokushin Karate. This remarkable achievement is a testament to your passion and perseverance. Big Osu! To all the fighters stepping onto the mats, remember that the pain you feel today will become the strength you carry tomorrow. If you don't pursue what you truly desire, you'll never attain it. Martial arts is not merely a sport but a lifelong journey of self-discovery, discipline and growth. There is always room for improvement, and each challenge is a valuable opportunity to rise higher. Embrace the fight, honor the effort and know that every step forward brings you closer to a better version of yourself. Good luck to all the participants, and congratulations for embracing the spirit of Kyokushin Karate! OSU!

Osu! It is a privilege to be part of the 1st Southeast Asia & 20th National KyokushinRyu Full-Contact Karate Tournament. This event is a remarkable milestone, reflecting our shared journey of discipline, resilience, and unity under the Kyokushin spirit. Each of us contributes to this legacy—competitors, organizers, officials, and supporters alike. To all competitors, stepping onto the mat is already a victory. Compete with honor, respect, and the true spirit of Bushido, knowing that every moment is an opportunity for growth. Your courage to face challenges exemplifies the essence of Kyokushin. To the organizers, officials, and supporters, thank you for your tireless dedication. Your commitment makes this tournament possible, creating a platform for athletes to showcase their skills and inspire one another. Let this event encourage us all to pursue excellence, deepen our commitment to KyokushinRyu Karate, and strengthen the bonds of our Kyokushin family. Together, we build a legacy of strength, respect, and unity. Osu!

Osu! I am deeply honored and grateful to witness this unforgettable event, the 20th National KyokushinRyu Full-Contact Karate Tournament and the 1st Southeast Asia Tournament. I would like to give my sincere appreciation to the organizers, instructors, and all the people behind this big event; you all made this tournament possible. I applaud you for all your hard work and genuine commitment.

To all the fighters, your commitment, fortitude, and unwavering passion for the sport you chose to learn are what make you exceptional fighters. All the hard work, blood, sweat, and tears you shed in the preparation for this tournament will not be in vain. Make sure to be proud of yourselves. Remind yourselves that you have done everything, you have prepared for this, and you will succeed. You will succeed not just in the form of trophies or medals but also through new experiences and learnings. Good luck, fighters, and congratulations! Osu!!!

Every national tournament, all Kyokushin fighters give their best to earn the highest rank in their respective categories. I believe that in this 20th National Karate Full-Contact Tournament, we will witness the best of the best from Kyokushin dojos across the country. As one of the branch chiefs, I would like to salute the organizers and officials of this national tournament. I know this will be another successful event that our fighters are truly looking forward to. It will be a great opportunity for them to showcase their abilities, strength, and—most importantly—their respect and camaraderie as martial artists. Osu!

My heartfelt gratitude goes to our Creator for giving me the privilege to be a part of and a mentor within IKAK Visayas. I am also thankful to the dedicated individuals who work tirelessly behind the scenes to strengthen this organization. The 20th National Kyokushin Full-Contact Karate Tournament is not just an event — it is a significant achievement for all participants, organizers, and the supportive families who stand behind every fighter. This gathering is more than the pursuit of medals and trophies; it is a testament to our perseverance, discipline, and commitment to the way of Kyokushin Karate. The camaraderie we build, the friendships we forge, and the respect we gain from one another are priceless. These bonds transcend competition, embodying the true spirit of Kyokushin. Our efforts and sacrifices are rewarded not only when we stand on the podium but also in the growth we experience as martial artists. It is our passion and devotion to martial arts that drive us to become stronger, more disciplined, and more resilient. Let this tournament be a celebration of our dedication and a reminder of why we train so hard. To all participants, give your best, embrace the experience, and carry the spirit of Kyokushin in your hearts. Osu!!!

It is of great pride that we continue to show a strong and vibrant organization as we prepare for the 1st Southeast Asia and 20th National KyokushinRyu Full Contact Karate Tournament this coming May 2025. Undoubtedly a very strong display of a strong group of dedicated martial artists in pursuit of the true meaning of the kyokushin spirit. May we surpass all obstacles that may challenge our efforts of promoting the highest level of karate for our organization and for all kyokushin practitioners in general. By these tournaments, we express our undeniable vigour that emanates from our Kancho Jackie Chong and equally active top officials of the International Karate Alliance KyokushinRyu. Again, I send my snappiest salutation to all who contributed tirelessly for the realization of this momentous event and good luck to all fighters. See you all in Manila. Osu!

Osu! To all the fighters, organizers, and officials of the 1st Southeast Asia Kyokushin Full-Contact Karate Championship and the 20th National KyokushinRyu Tournament, I send my warmest greetings and deepest respect. This event is a milestone in our journey—a celebration of strength, spirit, and unity across borders. To all fighters: may you enter the ring with courage, fight with honor, and grow with every challenge. Your presence here is already a testament to your discipline and heart. To the organizers and officials: thank you for your hard work and dedication in making this tournament a reality. Your efforts uplift the whole Kyokushin community and give our Karateka the stage they deserve. May this tournament be remembered not only for its competitive fire but also for the bonds of respect and friendship it creates. Wishing everyone a safe, successful event. God bless us all. Osu!

JAY ANN JUAN

Osu! I wish all of the participants good luck as the 1st Southeast Asia and 20th National KyokushinRyu Full-Contact Karate Tournament gets near. Now is the moment to showcase your strength, resilience, and unwavering determination. Every moment of training, every challenge faced, has led you to this point. Congratulations to all of you for reaching this incredible milestone! No matter what the outcome, know that you've already achieved something incredible. The courage to step into the ring, the discipline to train and the heart to give it your all are what truly matters. Each experience, win or lose, is a stepping stone towards growth. As one of the best saying that I've heard said, "the true competitor isn't the one who wins, but the one who gives their best effort" always remember that victory is not always about winning, but about giving your best. Best of luck dear participants.

Osu! To all the organizers, the countless hours spent coordinating, planning, and ensuring everything runs smoothly are what make this event a success. A heartfelt thank you for your hard work and dedication in making this tournament possible.

AARON BARDINAS
アーロン・バルディナス

Osu. To all who enter the arena, this is where strength is tested where only the spirit of a true warrior shines. The mat does not lie. It reveals who has the courage to face pain, the will to grow, and the hunger to rise beyond limits.
Embrace the fight. Do not fear it. For it is in the clash of fists, in the heat of the moment, that we evolve. Each strike is not just a challenge it is a lesson. Every opponent you face is a mirror, showing you what still lies ahead, and how far you've come. Seek not only victory, but growth. Respect those who stand before you, for only the strong are worthy of facing the strong. You have trained your body but now, sharpen your spirit. Show no hesitation. Show no doubt. Only the desire to go further, to become stronger, and to leave behind every weakness you once carried. Fight fiercely. Fight without regret. Become stronger with every breath. Osu. Let the battle shape you.
